

Questions

Ethos

- How are pupils encouraged to aspire to serve others?
- How are pupils encouraged to recognise their own particular gifts and find ways of using them for the benefit of all so that the community becomes all that it could be?
- How are pupils encouraged to show gratitude for those who help and serve them in the school?

Worship

- How are pupils helped to respond to the model of Servant King offered by Jesus himself e.g. the washing of feet on Maundy Thursday?
- How are acts of service celebrated as part of collective worship?
- How are pupils helped to understand the idea that it is in giving service to others that we find our meaning and purpose in life?

Curriculum

- How do different areas of the curriculum help pupils understand the concept of service and sacrificial giving?
- What opportunities for serving others are built into the structure of the curriculum?
- How does the citizenship curriculum promote the concept of serving community and country?

Leadership

- What exactly do you understand by the term 'servant leader'? Where is this characteristic seen in the way the school's leaders go about their work?
- Do you see any tension between the concept of being a leader and being a servant e.g. between being assertive when necessary and being at the service of others? If so, how is it resolved?
- What is your vision for the school's role in serving its community?