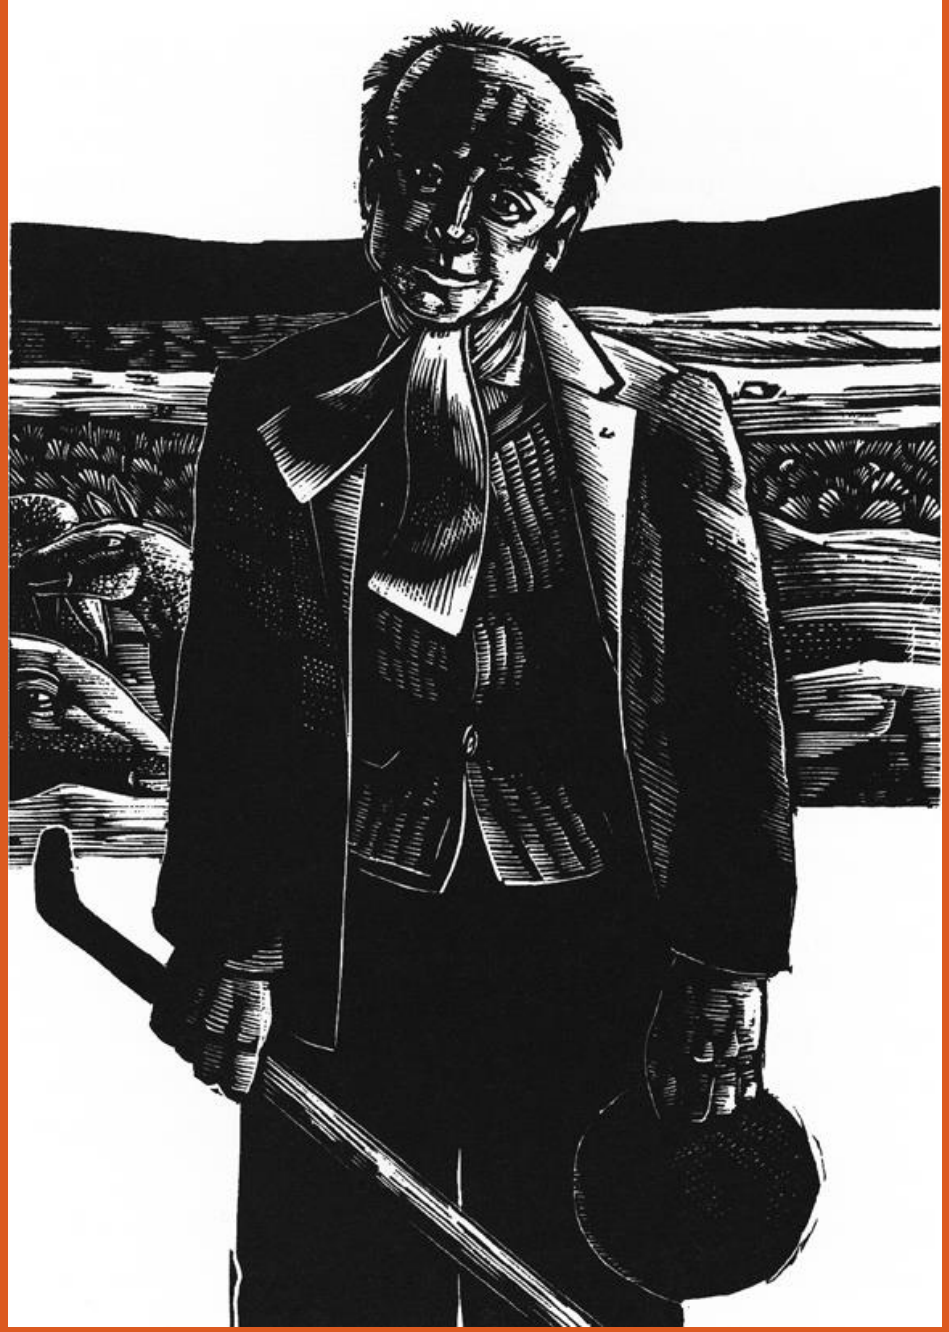
The Man Who Planted Trees

A story by Jean Giono
Woodcuts by Michael McCurdy

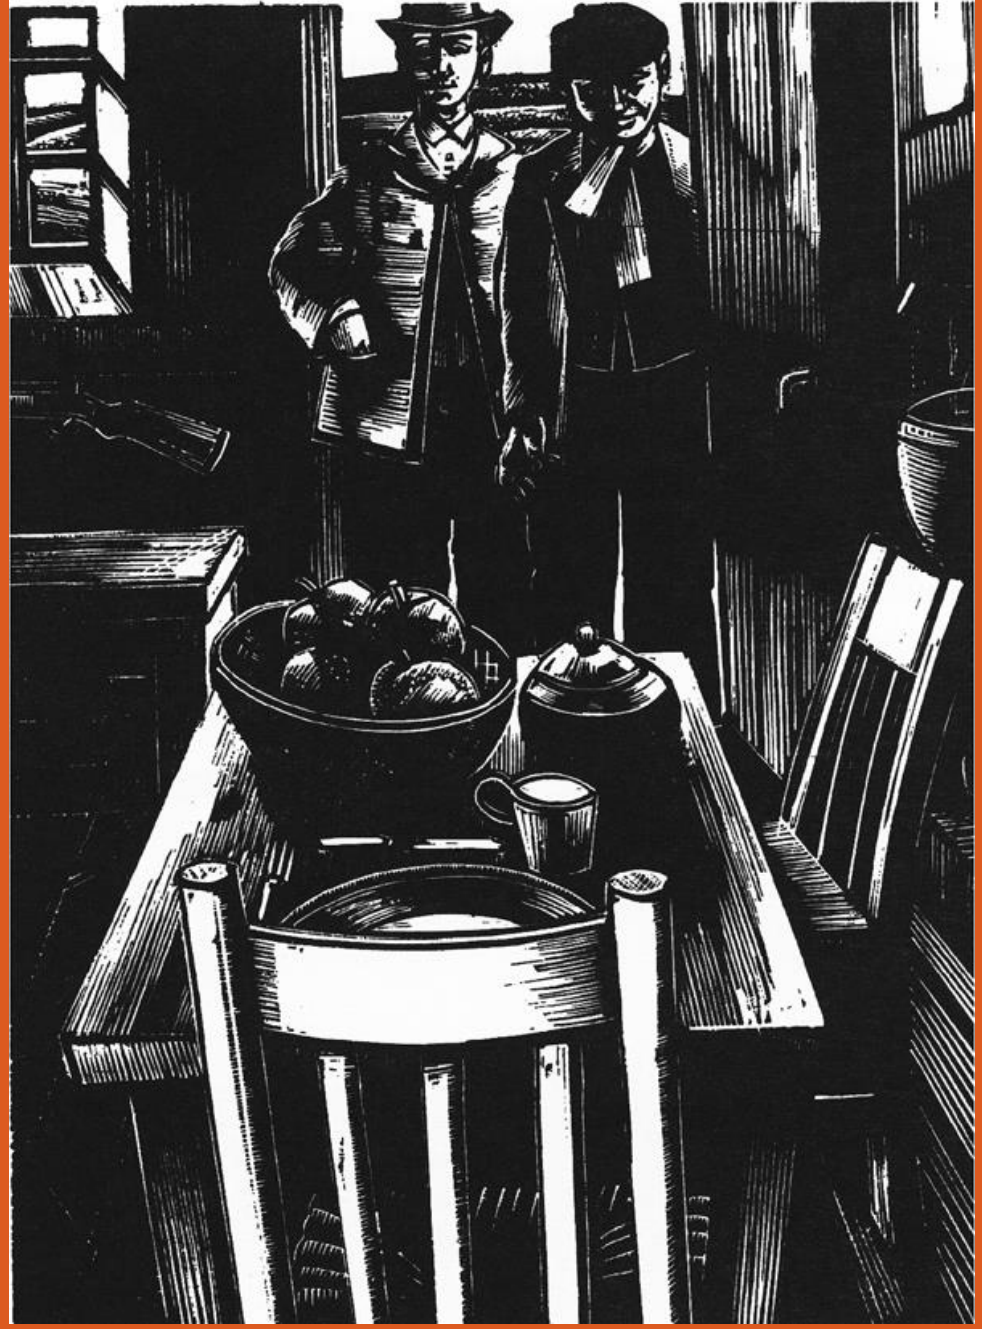
WOODLAND
TRUST

WOODLAND TRUST

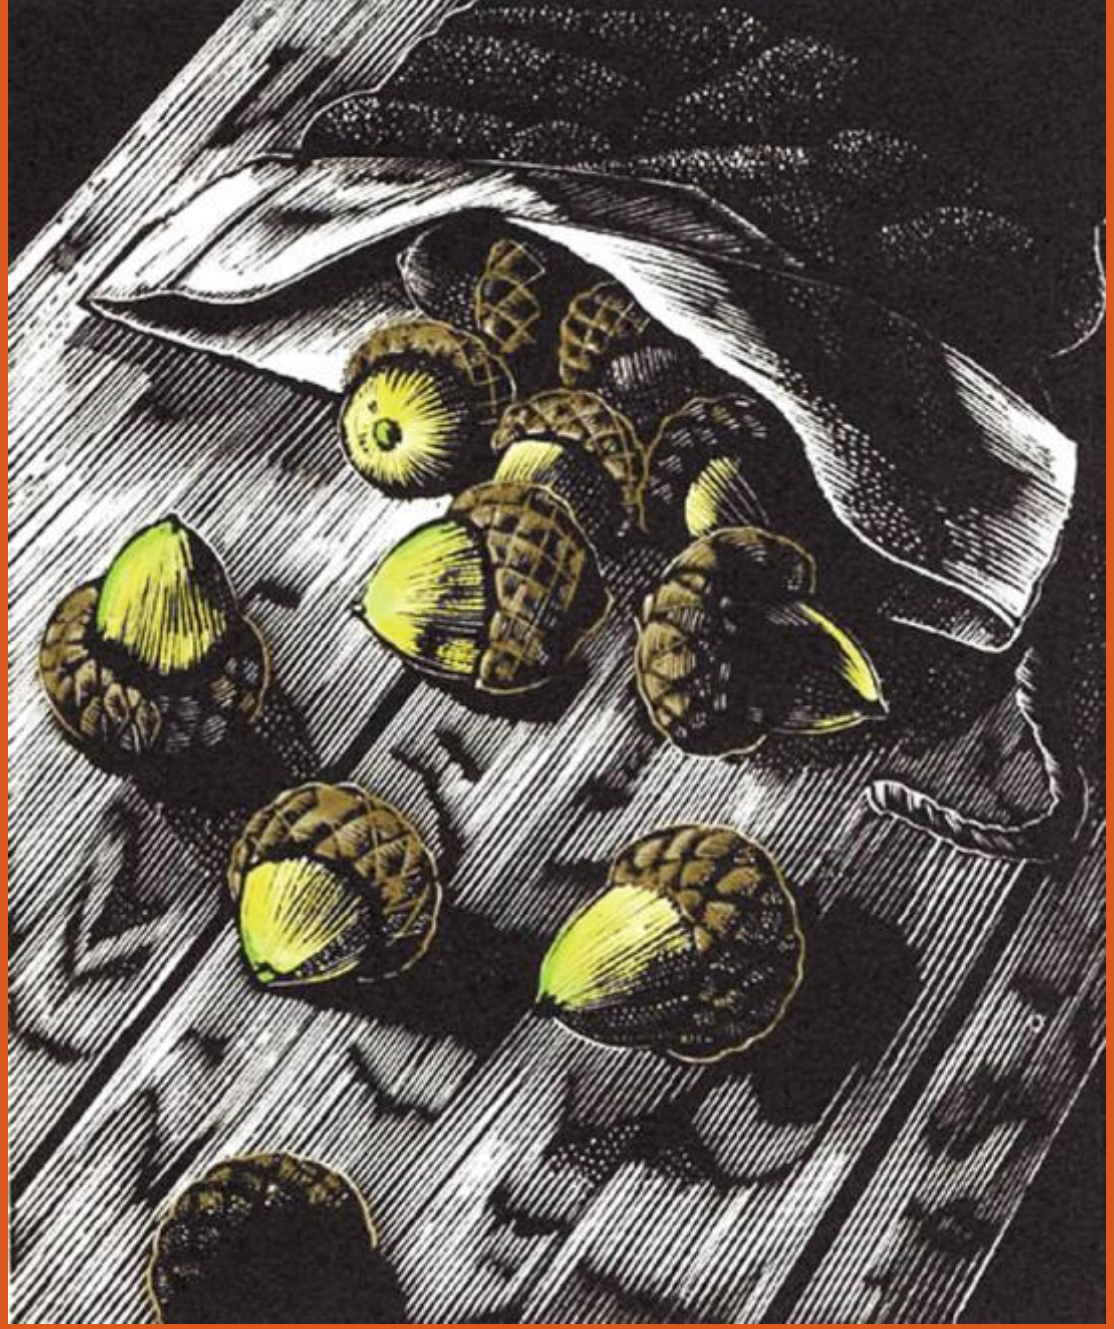
WOODLAND TRUST



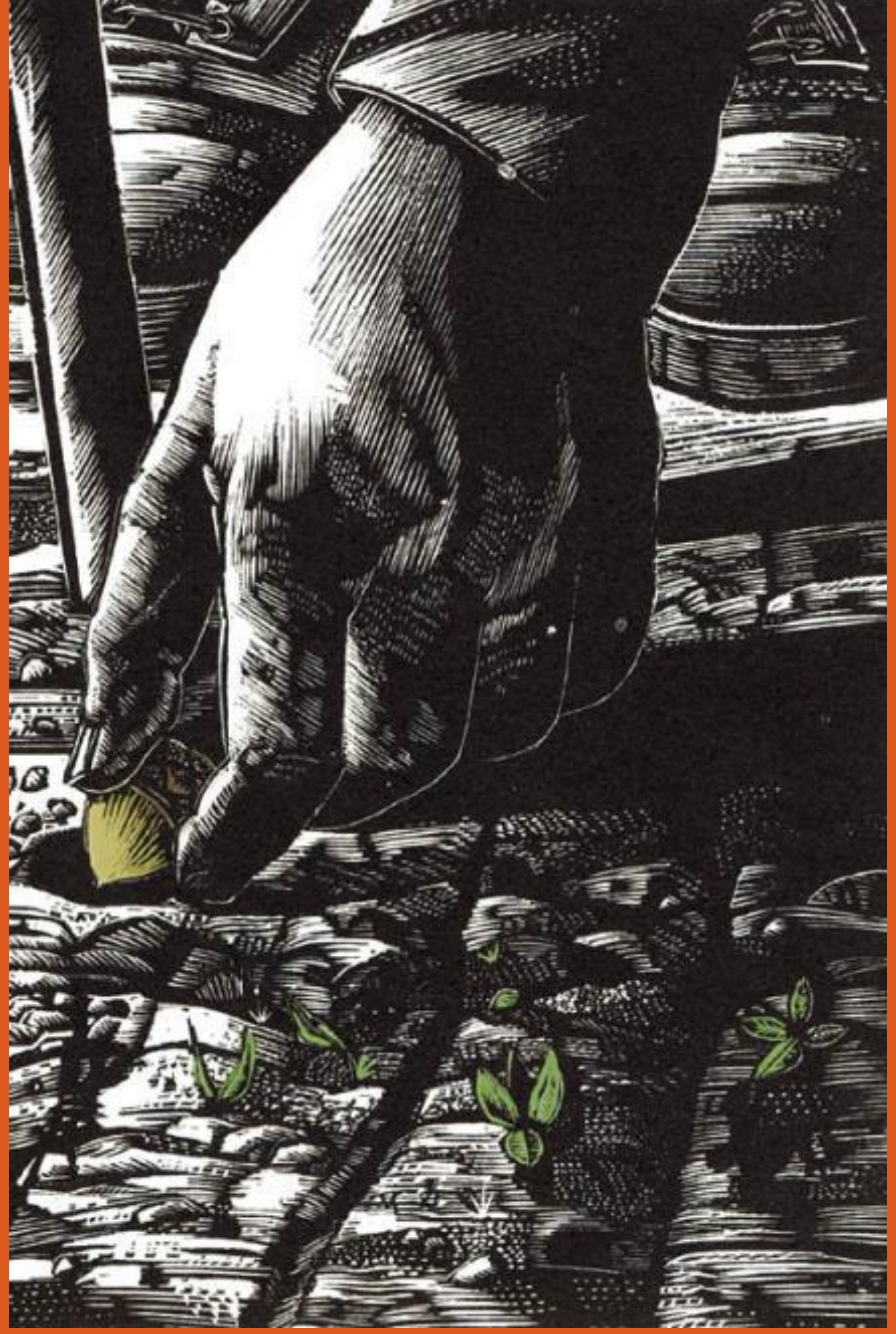
WOODLAND TRUST



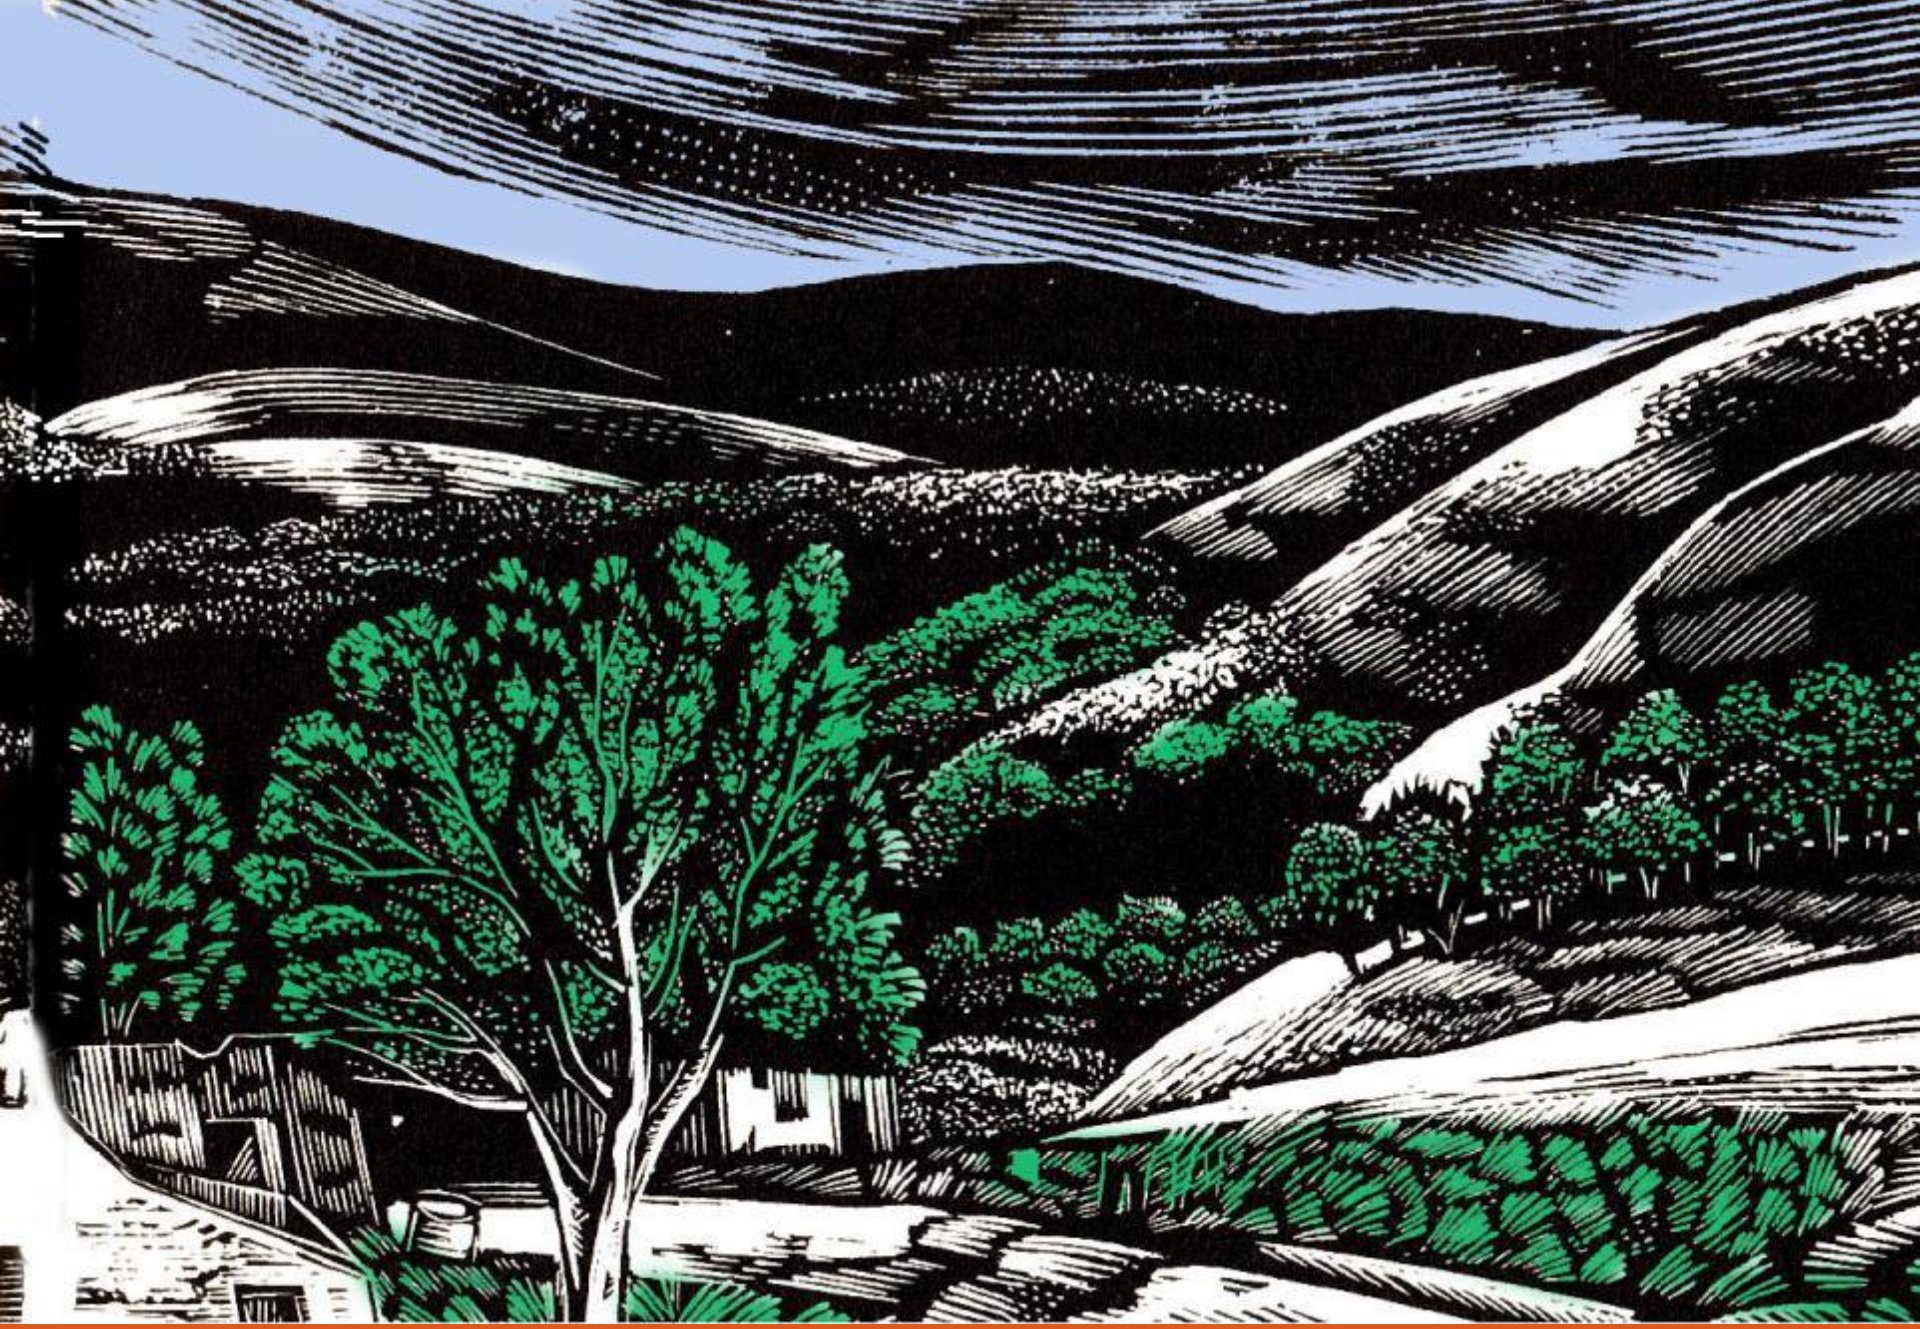
WOODLAND TRUST



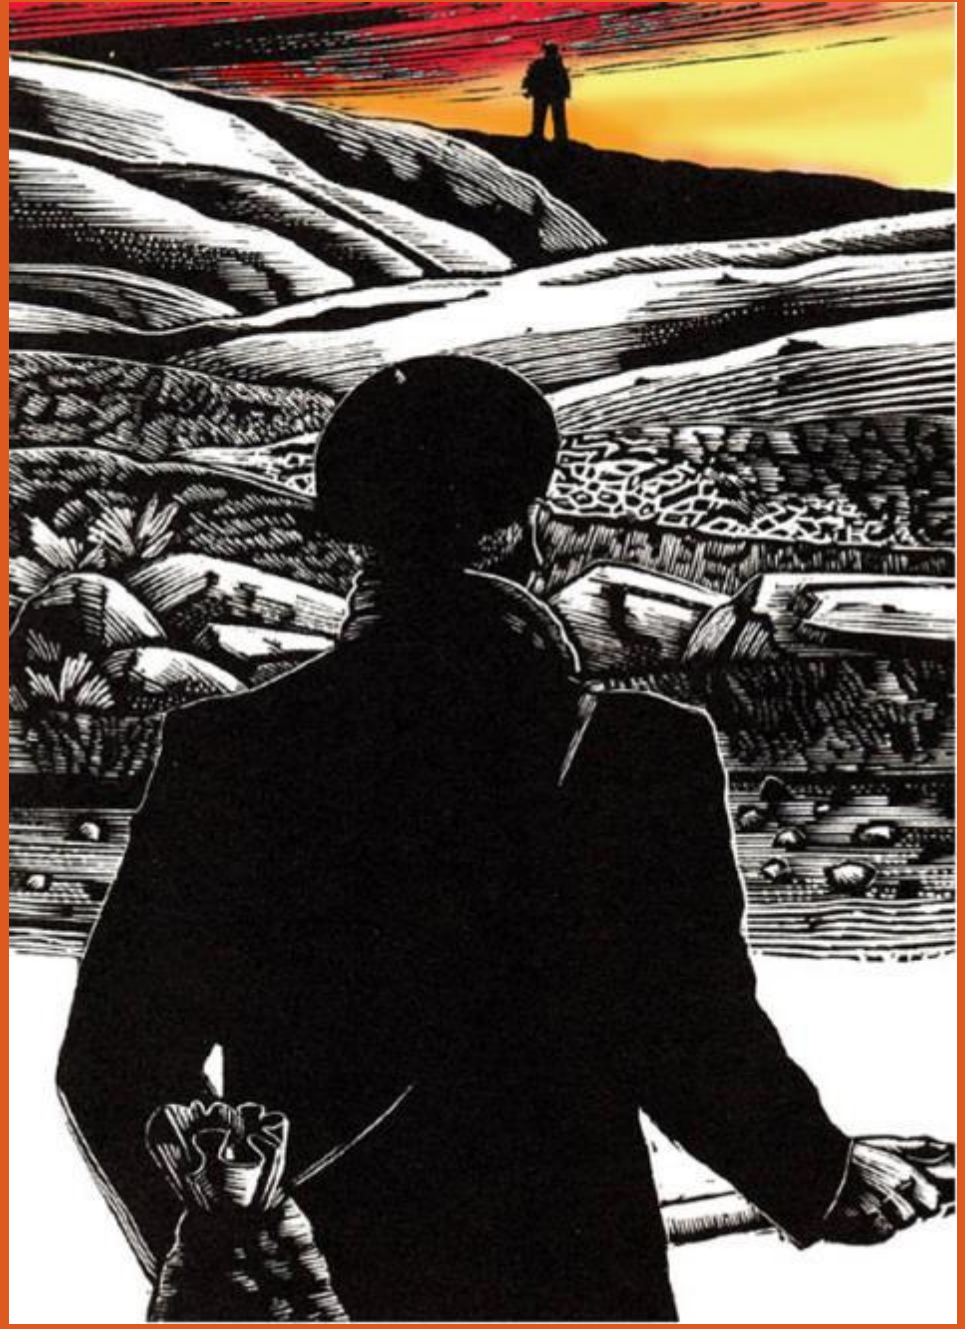
WOODLAND TRUST



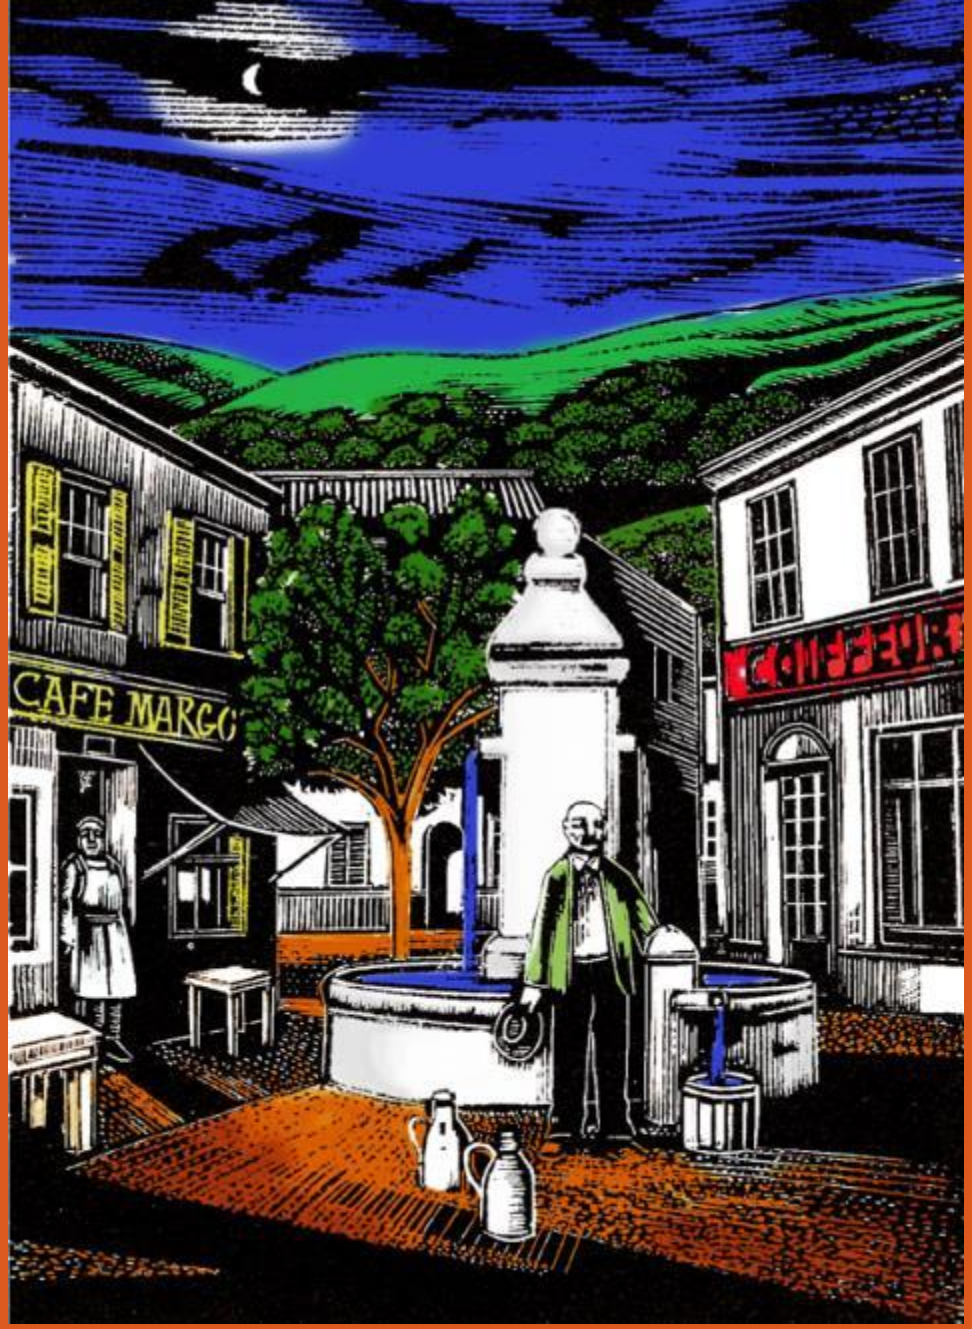
WOODLAND TRUST



WOODLAND TRUST



WOODLAND TRUST



The Man Who Planted Trees

WOODLAND TRUST

We’re planting trees to remember the First World War

“I can’t wait to watch
my tree grow.”

“My great-grandchildren will climb this tree one day.”

“This is much more fun
than being in a classroom”

Ancient woods are special

“We like finding new things we haven’t seen before”

“I love exploring!”

Woods are important for wildlife

Trees make oxygen, and clean
our air

Trees provide shade

Trees help reduce the impact of flooding

Wood is used for everything from pencils to playgrounds

Wood is an environmentally friendly fuel

Trees are important in towns and cities too.

Green Tree School Award

Life’s better with trees

Why are trees important to you?
Do you have a tree memory you can tell us about?

Add your voice to the Tree Charter!

Charter
for Trees, Woods and People

The Man Who Planted Trees

WOODLAND TRUST

Thank you for listening

WOODLAND
TRUST